Description
Hi Ray,
A notification I received in digest version had some strange formatting -- all paragraph breaks were ignored. I don't think this happened on the regular notification. please see attached for the digest version, and I can add the regular notification if you want

By default in Group Email Subscription, digests are truncated and paragraph tags are stripped because digests can contain more than one post.

For NYCDH, we made a customization to show the full post in digests. However, paragraph tags are still stripped. I can look into re-instating the paragraph tags, but do keep in mind that emails can get rather long if there are multiple posts.

Hmm. maybe we should go back to truncating the digest, then?

Best,

Matt

Hmm, looks like I was wrong.

I thought Group Email Subscription truncated digest content by default. I believe it did a long time ago, but this behavior must have changed.

We can truncate the digest content or use paragraph tags for the digest content. Whatever works best.

Okay -- thanks, Ray. Let's include paragraph tags, then.

Done! The next digest blast should include paragraph tags.

Reopen if the paragraph tags are not added.
