Description

Joao M. Da Silva reports on ZenDesk:

"I am a member of the commons group -<https://commons.gc.cuny.edu/groups/gender-and-environment-sexuality-and-space/>. We have a library of texts that we share in the group. However, as of today, when I attempt to download a file from the library, clicking on the item just sends me to the commons front-page, nothing is downloaded.

This is critical since some of this material is important for end-of-semester work and much of it is not available elsewhere. Thank you!"

They added me to the group and I am having the same problem.

History

#1 - 2020-12-09 04:41 PM - scott voth

I tried to download a file from our Commons group and also see that it's not working.

It looks like there was a bad merge in <https://github.com/cuny-academic-commons/cac/commit/9516cbd44b2983c4f4e728da9e0c810ccf10e387>, which caused some changes from the 1.17.x branch to overwrite some more recent changes from 1.18.x. (The group file download code was touched separately in both branches.) I believe I've fixed the problem in <https://github.com/cuny-academic-commons/cac/commit/0573a44ba7d735c9bd0ed7cd980fcd8a2824968c>, deployed to the production site. Can I ask you to test?
