Description
The Segal people think that danielgerouldarchives.org is a site mapped to the commons, but I don't see proof of that. Can you help? This is related to https://redmine.gc.cuny.edu/issues/13699

The domain is definitely not mapped in WordPress. And a search of this Redmine installation for the domain turns up zero results, which suggests that no request was ever made to map at the server level.
