Description
It looks like Neatline is a plugin developed for Omeka. Jessica Murphy has created this map using the plugin: http://christinakatopodis.com/tlh/neatline/fullscreen/profiles
She would like to embed a full screen version of the map into her site https://transform.commonsc.gc.cuny.edu/ - This is a one-off. She does not intend to use any more Neatline content on the site. Can we create an i-frame for her, or some other way to allow her to display the map fullscreen?

Sounds good. I've introduced a shortcode in <https://github.com/cuny-academic-commons/cac/commit/1d57d03b970712151d8895494c988dd1a42947f1>. Use: [christinakatopodis]. Also accepts 'height' and 'width' parameters. It will be available after tomorrow's release.
