Description
Four sites connected to grad center research committees are moving to the commons and currently use the Tribulant Newsletter plugin (http://tribulant.com/plugins/view/1/wordpress-newsletter-plugin). The committees have funds to purchase a license but the plugin needs to go through review before the purchase is made. To assist in the code review process, I have uploaded a zip (not for distribution) containing the plugin files as they are currently installed on the other sites: http://ge.tt/6JwTLsM/v/0?c FYI- I believe that newer versions of the plugin have removed the php exec() commands that I think are still in the version I uploaded.

Hi Boone,

Can I ask you or Dom to do a security review of these plugins? Many thanks.

Boone: would it be possible for you to take a look at this in the next few days? I'd like to get Keith an answer so that the team can move forward with a purchase of the plugin if we're going to add it. Many thanks.

Hi Keith,

Thanks for your patience on this. We've completed an initial security review of the plugin and we're happy to have your team make the purchase. Please keep us in the loop and send us the plugin files (as part of a new ticket) when you have the license in place.

If you have any questions, please let me know.

Best,

Matt
