okay, think this is done. Please confirm that its working when you have a chance. Doesn't appear to be working yet to me but maybe it takes time to get started?

André, is there anything additional that needs to be done on the server end to make the www alias work?

Yeah, it needed to be added as a ServerAlias under the respective VirtualHost entry. Added now.

In fact this A record is not needed if there's a wildcard record for *.commonsinabox.org already.

No worries, but it still doesn't seem to be working, at least for me.

Clear your cache. (Then start using a browser that doesn't have such a sticky cache. :)
