

CUNY Academic Commons - Bug #2633

Mentions in CBOX.org

Description
When I reply to a forum post in Commonsinbox.org and do a @mention, the mention is displayed in the activity stream and in the email notification, but not in the body of the reply itself. In the body of the reply, there is a blank space. I tested in other versions of CBOX on my test site - and it works perfectly. So it is just on CBOX.org that I see this odd issue.

I just replied to another forum post (this one my own) and did the same thing (mentioned same user), and it worked. I will keep my eye out - but this might have been just a glitch. Sorry if that's the case.

Actually it happened again on this line: "Raymond Hoh / @cbox_admin - What do you think?? " - Ray's mention worked, but Boone's was turned to spaces. The email sent out looks fine, but the post doesn't show the second mention.

Scott, could you please give a link to a page that displays the issue?

Looks like this has been fixed by recent upgrade. Scott, will you verify please?
