Description

One of our members, Ray Moy, created a blog for the Assessment Council: <http://commons.gc.cuny.edu/groups/assessment-council-cuny/>. This morning, when he tried to access the blog the screen was blank. I'm not sure if it was a browser issue, a theme issue, or perhaps something else, but I just joined the group and I see that the page is blank as well: <http://assessmentcouncilcuny.commons.gc.cuny.edu/>. He would like for the blog to be restored if that is possible.

Weird. Looks like the theme he'd chosen ("collaboration") was broken. I've switched him to a working theme, and the blog now responds as expected.

See <http://redmine.gc.cuny.edu/issues/2933> for more discussion on the broken theme.

Thanks, Boone. I just contacted Raymond to let him know.

Sarah - I'm going to close this one, and assume that Ray is OK with the new theme. Please feel free to reopen if you hear of more issues.
