Description
I'm hearing about some registration problems as the new term gets started. Since CUNY has switched student email addresses to a new system hosted by Microsoft, many email domains have changed, and I want to make sure that the new addresses will work. Here are two that I've seen: Grad Center students: *.@gradcenter.cuny.edu Center for Workers Education *.@citymail.cuny.edu Marilyn, I am assigning this first to you, as I would like to follow up on ticket 3466 by asking you to check in with all of the colleges (presumably by calling the Registrar's Office at each school) to see 1. what email domains grad students use, and 2. Whether that is different from what undergrads use. Obviously, we only need to check in with schools that have grad students. After we have those addresses, let's assign to Boone to see whether the system is set up to accept registrations from those schools. Many thanks!

Stephen, can you please follow up with Marilyn on this? Thank you

FYI, the current pattern used for the email whitelist is:

cuny.edu
cuny.tv
*.cuny.edu
psccmail.org
kingsborough.edu

Someone - Marilyn or Steve or someone else - should probably follow up on this project, to make sure things aren't being blocked unexpectedly.

Marilyn,
What is the current status on this ticket?

Thanks,
Steve
