Description
Unfortunately, it looks like I deleted a theme that someone was using -- http://grindley.commons.gc.cuny.edu . Now, that blog is inaccessible, via the home page or /wp-admin, so I can't get into the dashboard to set it to a theme that is still on the site. I tried to set a new theme for it through the superadmin options, but that didn't work -- the blog still shows up as a white page.
Any help would be appreciated. Thanks.

Boone, is there any chance you can help with this today? Carl may need to showcase this blog tomorrow during the CUNY IT Conference . . .
