Description

Katina Rogers from the Futures Initiative at the GC writes:

I love the new events function, but I have been having an issue that I wanted to notify you about. The text entry field for adding groups to the event appears very small. When I begin typing, suggestions of groups I belong to appear, but they are displayed in a way that is illegible. See screenshots below.

I am using Chrome 46.0.2490.86 (64-bit) on a Mac. The same thing happens on Firefox 41.0.2. I've had this same thing occur more than once. Thanks so much for looking into it!

Later she added:

I just tested on Safari and had the same issue. I am using Version 8.0.3 (10600.3.18).

Thanks for reporting this bug, Marilyn.

I can confirm that the bug exists and I've fixed this in commit 289d98e.

This should be rolled out later tonight when I release CAC 1.8.18.
