Description
Hi Boone,
Just want to be sure that the red box I'm seeing in the attached screenshot is supposed to be there for someone with superadmin privileges, but also that it won't show up for others. I saw this after I uploaded a file to a group

You're not seeing the PHP warning itself, but a utility that detects and then displays PHP notices. It's only visible to super admins, and was enabled for some debugging. I will disable it so you don't have to look at it.

Okay -- I don't mind it myself but just wanted to be sure that others weren't seeing it
