Description
Hi - I am noticing extremely bad response time on CBOX.org. The Commons performance is fine. January 2nd 1:15 PM. The activity stream seems filled with entries. Are we getting spammed?

Thanks for reporting this, Scott. The object cache configuration was incorrect, probably due to a recent reshuffling of the webserver responsible for serving the commonsinbox.org site. I've swapped out the config for something more resilient ('localhost' rather than an IP address) and performance seems to be restored. Can you confirm?

I think the GC hosts it, no?

"webserver", not "host". The Apache boxes have been switched a number of times over the last few weeks.
