

CUNY Academic Commons - Bug #8660

Search within theme directory issue

Description
Today on a mac with Chrome, I was showing someone the CAC and tried to show how to search through the themes for a feature. I searched for "responsive"; in my recollection, there were 53 themes before o searched and 53 after. Maybe we have all responsive themes, but that seemed improbable to me. Would you mind quickly testing this aspect of the site? Thank you.

The search UI here is "live search", which means that results are filtered as soon as you start typing. If you enter 'responsive' and then take your hands off the keyboard, it filters correctly. My guess is that you then hit the Enter key, which submits the (broken) form. I've filed a WP ticket:

As a temporary fixed, I've disabled the ability to do a native HTML form submission on this page:
