

CUNY Academic Commons - Bug #8661

new group, old site, can't link?

Description
Another linking problem. Joseph Rosenberg has a site called cuny.is/planningwithparents (https://joerosenberg.commons.gc.cuny.edu/). He then created a group, https://commons.gc.cuny.edu/groups/planning-with-parents-project-elective-fall-2017-cuny-school-of-law/, but did not see the site as an option as one of his available linkable sites. He added me as an admin and I don't see it either. Any idea why this would be? And can you override it? Thanks!

The site was linked to the group <https://commons.gc.cuny.edu/groups/test-group-680235863/>. Sites can only be linked to a single group (and vice versa). I've uncoupled from the test group, so you should see it in dropdowns now.

Hi Marilyn - Can you confirm whether the description above resolves the issue? Thanks!

I've just reconfirmed that my fix appears to be working, so I'm going to close this out. Let me know whether you run into further issues.
