| On our prod site, I tried to change a groups cuny.is shortlink. Original was group-omeka. I tried to change to omeka. Got message that it was already used - but when I go the cuny.is/omeka - it goes to CAC home page. | | | |

Thanks, Scott. It appears that there's a safeguard in the plugin that prevents you from selecting a URL that exactly matches a group's slug (ie, if there's a group commons.gc.cuny.edu/groups/foo, then cuny.is/foo is protected). This made sense when all cuny.is URLs pointed to users - it would be confusing for a user to essentially hijack a group's URL - but it doesn't make a lot of sense anymore. I'll fix this.

This required two fixes:

<https://github.com/cuny-academic-commons/cac/commit/ba37c859c34462ed61648c5a58a32809aaecc430> fixes the problem described above - namely, that groups should be able to claim the cuny.is URL corresponding to their Commons slug.

<https://github.com/cuny-academic-commons/cac/commit/6d58d6c41b8499b66fd27a991b98e7b2683c9029> adds the ability for groups to claim the cuny.is URL of a Commons blog, as long as that blog is the groupblog of the group in question. So the Omeka group is allowed to have 'omeka' even though omeka.common exists, since omeka.common is linked to the Omeka group.

Because this is a big feature for 1.12, I've gone ahead and pushed these changes out as hotfixes. Scott, can you please verify?
